See Ben Dio file "V for Victory"

With reference to the suggestion by Sherman of WAVE Louisville that we change our NBC chimes to make them sound the Morse Code for the letter "V".

If I thought for one moment that sounding the letter "V" on our chimes even a million times would contribute in the slightest to winning the war, I would certainly vote for it with all my might. However, to me a thing of that kind is just plain silly and accomplishes but one thing — it confuses everybody.

Incidentally, how much are we charging the Blue Network Co for the use of NBC chimes? It seems as though we ought to get a little revenue out of a thing of this kind.
